Yesterday arrived a Mail from France.

From the Paris Letter, dated Sept. 12.

Paris, Sept. 12. 'Tis advised from Madrid the 27th of August, that the King had nominated the Mirchioness of Aytona to go and meet the Queen at her Landing and conduct her to Madrid, and the Marquis de Villagarcia to go to acquaint the Queen Dowager of Spain with his Marriage with the Princess of Parma. The 25th, on which Day the Prince of Asturias entered into his 8th Year, he appeared cloathed in the French Fashion, and received the Compliments of the Grandees and Ministers, who kissed his Hand. 'Tis advised from the Camp before Barcelona the 24th, that in the Assaults made on the two Bastions, the Besiegers had 310 Men killed, among them 2 Brigadiers, 11 Captains, 15 Lieutenants and Sub-Lieutenants, and 2 Ingeniers, and 137 Wounded, among them a Collonel, 21 Captains, 24 Lieutenants and Sub-Lieutenants, 4 Ingeniers, and an Officer of the Artillery. According to the Report of Deserters, the Besieged had above 1500 Men killed, among them several Officers and other Persons of Distinction: The Mines were carrying on under the Gorge of the Curtain, the Bastion of the new Gate, the Bastion of St. Claire, and the grand Curtain: Men were likewise at Work on new Batteries, to enlarge the Breaches; they were to begin to fire all at once the 27th, to hinder the Besieged from raising any new Works for opposing the Attack which is intended to be made when the Breaches shall be practicable, with so great a Number of Men as shall render all their Efforts useles. The Marshal Duke of Berwick having Intelligence, that del Pual and Armengol had drawn together at Aulera on the Llobregat towards Martorel a Body of 8 or 9000 Men, in order to come and Attack him in the Rear; he detached M. d'Arpajou with 500 Horse and 5 Battallions to joyn M. de Thouy, Bracamonte, de Montemart, and Gongales who were that Way, to attack them, which was executed. The 22d M. de Montemart and d'Arpajou having drawn them by a Stratagem into the Plain of Martorel, and having surrounded them by the Cavalry and Infantry, charged them so successfully, that above 1500 were killed on the Place and 3000 taken Prisoners, who having flattered themselves they should beat our Men had brought Ropes to hang the Prisoners they should take; wherefore it was resolved to conduct them each to their Habitations and hang them in those Ropes. The Marshal Berwick was expecting the Count de Fiennes with 20 Battallions by the End of August, to reinforce his Army; and the general Assault was to be given the Beginning of this Month. The King, who is at Fontainebleau, is in very good Health; he goes a Stag-Hunting twice a Week, and at other times is out a shooting Birds flying, which is his ordinary Diversion. The Cardinal del Giudice took Leave the 4th of the King who embraced him; and the 5th set out in a Post-Chaise for Madrid. The Court is very numerous, and the Elector of Bavaria and the Electoral Prince of Saxony were daily expected there.
